Triumph Motorcycles (Hinckley) Chief Engineer
Led the engineering team creating the first generation (modular) Hinckley bikes launched in 1990

Current Details at January 2026

After Triumph, my career was mostly in automotive consultancy. Highlights include Engineering Director at Cosworth and Engineering Manager at Prodrive. Prior to my retirement in 2020 I spent the last decade of my working life writing technical articles and press releases for various engineering companies.

Over the years I've dabbled in road racing and trials and keep a small collection of classic and modern bikes.
